

Apprenticeship Training Program

808-245-8318

The Apprenticeship Training Program at Kaua'i Community College delivers high-quality education and hands-on training for building industry trades. Our program supports apprentices in nine key trades: air conditioning, carpentry, electrical, masonry, plumbing, roofing, laborer, painting, and sheet metal. Apprentices benefit from practical on-the-job training while attending specialized and related courses at the College, ensuring a comprehensive educational experience.

Important Notes: Kaua'i Community College is not involved in the application and selection procedures for these apprenticeship programs. If you are interested in one of these programs, please contact them directly. Descriptions of the different programs and contact information are included in the Guide to State Registered Apprenticeship Programs section. Apprenticeship courses are restricted to those in apprenticeship or journeyworker programs that have partnered with Kaua'i Community College.

Goals: The goals of the Kaua'i Community College Apprenticeship program are to:

- Contribute to the development and maintenance of a properly trained Kaua'i workforce.
- Promote excellence and professionalism in Apprenticeship instructors, staff, and students, Kaua'i Community College apprenticeship training programs, and the College.
- Serve as a vital and integral component in the College's instructional and service programs.

Through the Apprenticeship Training Program, Kaua'i Community College is committed to advancing career skills and promoting professionalism within the local workforce.
