

AG 200 : Principles of Horticulture

Credits: 3

Class Hours: 3 lecture

Prerequisites: "C" or higher or concurrent enrollment in AG 200L.

Description: This course introduces plant anatomy and physiology, as well as discusses plant nutrients, moisture, environmental requirements, and plant propagation. In addition, culture and production techniques for selected ornamental crops will be studied.

Semester Offered: Fall, Spring

Designation:

Diversification: Biological Sciences – DB