

SOC 220 : Marriage and Family

Credits: 3

Class Hours: 3 lecture

Description: This course explores the family and marriage as key social institutions. The historical development of these institutions is studied, with special emphasis on the personal and social problems of intimate relationships and of modern family life.

Semester Offered: Spring

Designation:

Diversification: Social Sciences – DS